ABOUT THE CITY.

William Walsh went to Butto yesterday Hon. D. J. Hennessy came down last evening from Butte.

The unusually heavy snowfall was the cause of a slim attendance of the younger school children.

Snow has fallen incessantly since Wednesday night and is piled up to a depth of 26 inches. The Butte passenger was an hour late last night owing to a track accident in Silver Bow canyon.

Skating is knocked into a cocked hat, but snowshoes furnish the boys with plenty of amusement and excitement these days.

The Lincoln lyceum will meet in the High school this evening. An interesting programme has been arranged and a pleasant time is assured.

The sale of seats for Carolyn Gage's engagement in Evans opers house Monday night is now on at Smith's drug store. The play will be "The Honeymoon," and indications point toward a large sale.

There was no session of school at the old church building in West Park avenue yesterday afternoon. Adjournment was taken in order to remove the furniture into the new Prescott school which will open next Monday morning.

Three vags were sentenced to work out a fine on the streets. They will begin their job this morning, shoveling snow from sidewalks and crossings. While on the way to jail one of them fell in a fit, produced, it is supposed, by hunger.

The Tuttle Manufacturing and Supply The Tuttle Manufacturing and Supply company shipped yesterday a car load of mining machinery to the Pandora Mining company of Virginia City, this state. This immense establishment furnishes milling and mining supplies to mining companies of all parts of the Northwest.

The several white women doing washing in the city are requested to send in their names to the chairman of the citi-zens' executive committee, C. W. Bran-don, who, with their permission, will pub-lish the names. This will be done in order to direct patrons to places where washing will be done by white persons. The colored women are also requested to do the same. Many people complain that white persons cannot be found who can compete with Chinese laundries. By Soing this the committee believe that several can be found who can satisfactorily compete with the heathen.

COULDN'T FIND HIM.

COULDN'T FIND HIM.

Took the Wrong Track and Gave Bruin the Ge-By.

W. H. Weaver, who resides at 707 South Cedar street and works at the Montana Union car shops, saw a bear yesterday at the base of the hills near his home. He notified John Green, H. R. Burg and M. J. Foley, who work with him, of his discovery and these gentlemen at once formed an expedition and began to scour the foot hills. Bruin's large tracks were found and followed, but no bear hove in sight. The hunters continued through deep snow, over hills and through ravines, yet his bearship was apparently as far away as when the hunters started. The snow was falling thick and fast and the trail was being rapidly obliterated, yet the faint depression in the snow bank gave them courage, and no thought was given to distance or hunger. A high ridge was ascended and a survey of the surroundings made. Fatigue and discouragement now took the place of desire and avidity and a brief consultation resulted in a start homeward.

It was agreed that the bear was some-brief consultation resulted in a start homeward.

It was agreed that the bear was somewhere in the mountains, but none of them cared to hunt any farther for him. They all hoped to hear of Mr. Weaver capturing the beast that had given them such a fruitless chase. They would direct him to the point where their chase ended and wish him success. As for their part, enough pleasure was found in sitting near a warm stove and reading their home daily paper.

Late in the afternoon, just after sundown, as the depressed trio was slowly moving down the hillside near town, an object was seen moving on the opposite side of the ravine. The exact outlines of the figure could not be traced, as dusk had hovered over them, and to shoot may prove disastrous. They could do nothing but continue on to Mr. Weaver's home and relate the day's experience. That was done, and much did the narration please the host. When the dim prowing object was described, and the effect that it produced upon the auditor has subsided, the tired hunters wondered why they had not followed the bear's track towards his place of reconnoiter instead of walking many miles toward his mountain home.

That the animal was seen there is no doubt, but that the hunters took the right track there is doubt. This is the second time that a bear has been seen there within a month.

"THE HONEYMOON."

"THE HONEYMOON."

Carolyn Gage Will Appear at Evans
Monday and Tuesday.

On Monday night "The Honeymoon" will attract theater-goers and on Tuesday the well-known drama, "A Celebrated Case" will be seen. The role that Miss
Gage assumes in "The Honeymoon" dis-Gage assumes in "The Honeymoon" displays to great advantage her versatility. It is conceded that she is almost exclusively an emotional actress, and the arranger, rather than the author, has considered her merit as such in apportioning her lines. The play is well staged and costumed with costly elegance, and is so arranged as to give her support an abundant opportunity to do their best. It is replete with brilliant scenes and stirring situations. The lady will no doubt be greeted by a large house.

A SEATTLE SCANDAL. A Stolen Will Figures in the Tesler

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 27.—The city was startled last night by the arrest of Mrs. Minnes Yesler, Dr. Eugene Jordoan and Dr. H. At the time of Yealer's death it was generally supposed he left a will, but inquiry failed to recover it. Detectives now claim to have positive ovidence a will was left by Yesler. It is claimed J. D. Lowman was made sole executor. The will, it is said, leaves valuable property to Mrs. Yesler and Lowman, but the greater portion of the artest but the greater portion of the estate, valued at about $2,000,000, is left to the city of Seattle.

An Increase of 1 wenty Millions of This Year.

Washington, Jan. 27.—The appropriation committee agreed on the pension appropriation bill. It carries an appropriation of $166,400,000, an increase of $20,662,550 over the appropriation for the current year. The recommendation of the subcommittee, that no pension shall be paid to any persons under the dependent pension law, unless they can show that they are wholly disabled for manual labor and have an income less than $600 per year, was stricken out, as was the recommendation that no widow pensioner should receive a pension unless she was married to a soldier previous to 1870. The proposition to authorize the commissioner of pensions to detail medical examiners from the pension office to act as examining surgeons for pensions and to abolish the board of examining surgeons was also rejected.
